From the desk of the pastor...

Loving people who seem unlovable is one way God shows his mercy. For us, the word mercy has connotations of weakness. But Christian mercy is actually the strongest force in the world, because it overcomes sin.

Zacchaeus was a sinful man, an unjust man whose greed was causing suffering and misery to an entire region of Palestine. The people's anger, their threats, their ostracism, their harsh words and actions – none of that changed his heart. But when Jesus treated him with kindness and respect, he rekindled the sense of goodness that Zacchaeus, for whatever reason, had long since buried in the junk drawer of his soul.

A couple married for 15 years began having more than usual disagreements, in fact, their marriage was in crisis. They sincerely wanted to work through it and agreed on an idea the wife had. For one month they planned to drop a slip of paper in a "Fault" box. The boxes would provide a place to let the other know about daily irritations. The wife was diligent in her efforts and approach: "leaving the jelly top off the jar," "wet towels on the shower floor," "dirty socks not in the hamper," on and on until the end of the month. After dinner, at the end of the month, they exchanged boxes. The husband reflected on what he had done wrong. Then the wife opened her box and began reading. They were all the same, the message on each slip was, "I love you!"

The crisis was over.

If we learn to be merciful, we will learn to "seek and to save what was lost," to retrieve people's good sides from the junk drawers of their soul.

- Fr. Luis
