From the desk of the pastor...

Blessings of love from the Father, Son, and the Holy Spirit...

The story is told about how Augustine, then a bishop, was grappling with the mystery of the Blessed Trinity. This happened after his conversion from a playboy life and after he bantered: "Lord, make me chaste but not yet." Absorbed in thought one day, the brilliant bishop was walking along the seashore and saw a lad scooping water from the sea and filling up a little pit. Augustine asked the boy what he was doing, to which he replied: "I am transferring the ocean into this hole." Augustine laughed aloud, and said, "Transferring the vast sea into such a hole, that's impossible!" And the boy, who was actually an angel, said, "And that's what you are doing. In trying to unravel the mystery of the Holy Trinity, you're like transferring the ocean into a hole."

The Church teaches this doctrine because Jesus Himself revealed it as recorded in the Bible. He said: "The Father and I are one." Before He ascended to heaven, Jesus commanded His apostles: "Go to the whole world and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, the Son, and Holy Spirit." Knowing the doctrine of the Trinity helps us to understand who God is. However, what is far more important is a knowledge that leads us to a closer personal friendship with God and a Christ-like relationship with our fellowmen.

There are brilliant minds who can prove the existence of God as an Unmoved Mover but can be unmoved by the plight of their suffering neighbours. Helen Keller, the American Catholic author and lecturer who was deaf and blind from infancy, once remarked, "I find life an exciting business—and most exciting when it is lived for others." Keller is saying, we experience God when we reach out to others.

Acts of kindness could be a sympathetic listening to a troubled officemate or relative, a sincere praise, compliment or a kind word, an unsolicited material help (with no strings attached!) or condoling with a bereaved family. We can experience the Triune God, too, by living together in peace and harmony. In other words, where love, caring and unity reign, God is there.

May the feast of the Holy Trinity serve as a reminder and our guiding light.

"While the Catholic Church unequivocally upholds the sanctity of every human life and stands firmly against the grave sin of 'procuring abortion', she also offers God's unceasing mercy if true contrition is sought."
